28 Suffer Injuries in Area Auto Accidents

Occupants Hurt in 13 Of 29 Weekend Traffic Crashes in Quad-Cities

Twenty-nine weekend traffic accidents, including seven that caused multiple injuries and six other injury crashes, were recorded in the Quad-Cities. The number of persons hurt reached 28.

Two men were injured about 1:30 a.m. Saturday when their auto crashed into the cab of a TRKA engine being operated in reverse across State street near 13th street.

Madison police said the southbound auto was being driven by Lloyd Hale, 38, of 2216 Dewey, and that Hale and a passenger, William Atwood, 41, of 2510 West 23rd street, were injured. The train was being operated by Donald Seegers, 39, of St. Louis.

Highway Crash Injures 8

Eight persons were injured about 11:45 p.m. Friday in a crash involving three cars at the dangerous Rock 3-Chain of Rocks road intersection west of Mitchell.

Hospitalized here were both occupants of one car, Hal O'Neal, 36, of Alton, the driver who was going east on Chain of Rocks, and a passenger, Eileen Washington, 45, also of Alton, and a passenger in one of the other autos, Mrs. Lois Widin, 45, of St. Louis.

State police said O'Neal's auto was hit broadside by the auto of John Widin, 45, of St. Louis, who was going north on Route 3. O'Neal's auto then spun into the westbound auto of Ronald Dahl, 32, of East Alton.

Also hurt were John Widin and two other passengers in his car, Ronald Dahl, 32, of East Alton, and a passenger in his car, Vern Dahl, 30, also of East Alton.

Case Crash—4th House

Three persons were hospitalized and there was considerable property damage at three homes as a result of a two-car collision about 8:10 a.m. Saturday at Fourth and Granville streets, Venice.

Injured were James Isaac, 22, of 118 Dixon road, driver of one car; a passenger, Helen Hayes, 45, of Overland, Mo., and the driver of the other car, Willie H. Moore, 35, of East St. Louis.

Police said Isaac was going north and his auto crossed the center line, sideswiping Moore's southbound auto. Moore's car damaged the fence at the home of Mrs. Marie Hall, 801 Fourth street, and then crashed into the newly-built home of Lawrence Barks, 721 Fourth street, creating the foundation and damaging the siding. A tree also was damaged.

Isaac's auto also went out of control and hit the fence and porch at the home of Adele Baker, 815 Fourth street.

Crash Injures Three

Three passengers in an auto suffered minor injuries Saturday night in a two-car crash in the 2400 block of Madison avenue. Marvin Sanford, 37, of Caseyville, had stopped his northbound auto for traffic and his car was struck by a southbound car.

Frightened Bandit Runs Through Alley Along City Hall

Bernard Miller sr., local druggist, warned off an armed robber about 11:15 p.m. Saturday when he was accosted while walking his dog by his store at Niedringhaus avenue and State street—in the same block as the city hall and police station.

Miller said he was approached by a man with a white stocking cap pulled down over his face and was ordered—"Stick 'em up, I have a gun."

The druggist replied, "I have a gun, too," and when the dog began to bark, the excited bandit took off running, and fled up the alley by the police station.

He fled north, and the man was about 30 years old, five feet, nine inches tall and weight about 150 pounds. He was wearing a brown jacket and light-colored trousers. The area was searched, but he was not located.

7 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC DEATH

Little resemblance to the fabulous and mysterious land described in "Arabian Nights" fairy tales, or linked in Biblical stories to the fabulous Queen of Sheba, can be found in the tiny middle-eastern Republic of Yemen, according to Miss Teckla (Tillie) Rydgidg of Madison.

Its antiquity and lack of the most rudimentary aspects of modern civilization continues to keep day-to-day life in the Lilliputian-size country firmly planted in the midst of a not-so-glamorous 19th century existence, Miss Rydgidg said.

Currently enjoying a few weeks leave at home after four years in Yemen with the U. S. Agency for International Development, the foreign service employee expects to depart late next month for a new two-year assignment in Ankara, Turkey. Her new duties will be with the Central European Treaty Organization (CENTRO).

Since a military coup in September 1962, deposed Yemen's royal ruler, the Imam Ahmed, was reportedly assassinated, the ancient land located on the tip of the Arabian peninsula, has attracted international awareness. Interest in developments there was compounded when President Nasser of the United Arab Republic began sending thousands of troops into Yemen in support of the republic's military authorities.

Within the past few weeks, even greater attention has been focused on the tiny country by

Schedule Work on Maryville Road Gates

Railroads to Finish Installation Before June 23 ICC Deadline

Installation of crossing gates and flasher signals at the dangerous Maryville road rail crossing near Mitchell will begin this week and will be completed before the construction deadline of June 23 set in an order of the Illinois Commerce Commission, it was announced Friday.

A spokesman of the railroad's engineering department said work will get underway Thursday. Norfolk & Western will do most of the installation work in behalf of all the railroads using lines which cross the Maryville road crossing, a danger spot at which several fatal accidents have occurred within the past five years.

The Illinois Commerce Commission ordered the railroads to install protective measures at the crossing a year ago following the death of a Mitchell area mother and her nine-year-old daughter in a car-train crash on the crossing. Residents of the area organized a steering committee headed by Rev. John N. DiGiacommo, pastor of the Mitchell Presbyterian Church.

Rev. DiGiacommo and members of the committee met Saturday and discussed tentative plans for memorial service to be held at the crossing site upon completion of the installation, as a memorial to the victims of fatal accidents at the crossing.

Detailed plans for the service will be worked out to coincide with completion of the work next month, Rev. DiGiacommo said. Major rail lines using tracks that include the Norfolk & Western, New York Central and GM&O. All will share in the cost which is expected to be $75,000.

There are many cards still to be worked, but we are making headway and will put this drive over the top," Flaster told the workers present at the Granite City Steel Co. main office building.

The advance gift workers were advised by the campaign chairman, Delaney Davis and Lily Galle, that no further report sessions will be held and that any pledges now received are to be reported to the campaign headquarters, 1920 Edison avenue.

Galle said that in reviewing the pledge cards and Davis reported several were far below expected amounts, and that the special crew is to be asked to review the cards.

$2500 House Blaze In GC Early Today

A cigarette that apparently had been left burning in an ashtray resulted in a $2500 fire at the five-room frame home of Roy Shambaugh, 2425 State street, at 3:40 a.m. today, firemen reported. Estimated damage to the one-story structure amounted to $1500, while loss of contents was set at $1000.

According to a fire department report, a lighted cigarette had burned through a chair in the living room, which in turn had ignited and burned through a wooden floor. Unable to reach the door due to dense smoke, Shambaugh, who lives alone, had crawled through a back window to safety.

Firemen were at the scene until 4:55 a.m.

City Plans Vote On Smaller Bond Issue For Sewers

Hopes to Keep Grant; Commission on Human Relations is Named

Another sewer bond issue vote for a smaller amount to save the $1,500,000 federal grant is likely before June 30, the deadline date for Granite City to claim the U. S. funds.

While no definite action was taken, council members indicated during a special session Friday that a $1,000,000 bond issue would be submitted. Formal action on another vote may be taken at this evening's regular 8 o'clock meeting.

The special session Friday was called by Mayor Partney after reconsideration of establishment of a Human Relations Commission. The mayor said he has been advised that representatives of the East St. Louis chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, headed by Homer Ransdell, will visit the council session this evening to discuss Illinois.

Council members voted 11-to-1 Friday for the Human Relations Commission and to investigate and recommend programs designed to alleviate the causes of the community social problems.

Nine Commissioners

Named to the commission and confirmed by the council were: Dr. Raymond Troyer, president of the Quad-City Ministerial Association and an SCLC member; Eugene Cox, Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council executive and Roy Lynn, president of Protestant Welfare, for two-year terms, and Rev. Phillip Kraft of St. John's Church, Rev. Dr. David Maxton of the First Presbyterian Church and Randall Robertson, lawyer, for one-year terms.

The commissioners are to hold their first meeting this evening. They will serve without pay and will select their own officers. They are to serve in an advisory capacity and may seek the aid of other community groups and business, professional and service organizations.

Voting for the commission were Aldermen Dallas, Moerlein, Boyd, Poulos, Green, Ruffledge, Farmley, Jarrett, Dawes and Johnson. Opposed was Alderman Nona. Those absent were Aldermen Bartoski, Basarich, Fry and Robertson. A similar ordinance has been voted on April 24.

Motion Made May 1

Council members discussed the $1,000,000 sewer bond issue defeat for nearly 45 minutes before deciding the action would come at tonight's meeting on a deferred motion for a $1,000,000 bond issue with $125,000 to be revenue bonds and the remainder general obligation bonds. The motion had been made May 1 by Alderman Moerlein.

While Mayor Partney called for a show of sentiment for the smaller bond issue, no vote was taken, although most of the aldermen present indicated they favored a second try to keep the federal grant.

The council lawyer and a member of the Citizens for a Better City (CIBC) were also present.

Burglars broke into a tavern, an auto supply firm and a residence during the weekend to steal a wide variety of loot. Authorities in the Quad-City area reported 16 crimes, including the theft of $100 worth of clothing from a laundromat.

Burglars who entered Western Auto store, 20th street and Grand avenue, Saturday night by breaking a rear window, were seen in their loot, according to the proprietor, Lyle Tatum, who discovered the break-in Sunday.

Missing are two hunting knives, a pair of $25 binoculars and a transistor radio. The thieves removed screws to take down a door from the back of the store, Tatum said.

The thieves also hauled away 13 cases of whiskey, 13 cases of bottled beer and from 14 to 16 six-packs of beer.

Appliances, Gun Stolen

A window air-conditioning unit, an 18-inch portable television set and four guns were taken from the home of Walter Kean, 260 Harding Blvd., early Friday. A brick was used to smash a rear door glass and was found in the yard. Kean said all rooms in the house were ransacked.

Coroner's Jury Returns Verdicts in Four Deaths

Verdicts of accidental death by skull fractures and internal injuries were returned last week by a coroner's jury, investigating the May 7 highway crash that killed three young people from Missouri and injured a fourth girl.

Madison County Deputy Coroner Alvin Cese conducted the inquests at the Pieper Funeral Home.

Killed in the accident at Interstate 270 and Highway 3, just north of Granite City, were Jerry Wayne Raines, 21, and Calvin Dennis Pendleton, 19, both of St. Louis, and Miss Mary, Linda Freeman, 16, of Florissant, Mo.

The latter's sister, Miss Susan Freeman, 16, also of Florissant, was injured in the crash that occurred when the eastbound auto driven by Raines was changing lanes on I-270, hit a guard rail, skidded sideways and struck a concrete base for overhead directional signs.

A separate verdict of suicide was reported in the death of Herschel Taylor, 66, of 3128 Colgate place, who was found hanging in his garage May 8.

City Auto Licenses Now Due—Cost $3

Robert Brooks, assistant national director of urban relationships of the Boy Scouts of America, will spend Wednesday and Thursday in the Cahokia Mound area and address a dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the Illinois Club in East St. Louis.

The dinner will be attended by scout officials and by leaders of various Quad-City governmental and service groups. It was announced by Council President Carl E. Mathias and Univah District Chairman William F. Winter.

Topic at Thursday night's gathering will be "inner city" areas of the Quad-Cities and the role that scouting plays in environmental factors.

Brooks' discussion will include observations made during his two days of touring this area and conferring with a cross-section of the population.

Groundbreaking Plan for SIU-SW Commonage

Groundbreaking will take place at 8:15 a.m. Wednesday on Route 157 opposite main entrance to Southern Illinois University Southern campus for Phase I of the planned development known as Edwardsville Southern Illinois Commonage.

Phase I consists of 72 acres to be developed with roads, sewers, water, gas, electricity, landscaping, etc. and contains single-family residential lots, apartment sites and commercial sites.

The acreage will be made available to private developers for building within the restrictions of the master planned development.

Builders will be working for a few days of clearing for roads so that final surveying, topography information and bidding can be accomplished. There will then be a few weeks' halt before actual construction begins.

Overload in Electrical Switchbox Causes Odor

Firemen were called to the Children's shop, 1311 Nineteenth street, at 11 a.m. Friday when a possible overload in an electrical switchbox caused an odor. There was no damage. An electrician was called to make repairs.

Firemen from two stations answered the downtown alarm.

Four Radar Arrests

Four drivers were issued arrest tickets Thursday afternoon on speeding charges as traffic division police operated a radar unit along Pontoon road and East 23rd street. They are Billy P. Morris, 3700 Pontoon road; James L. Ellis, 4044 Lake drive; Doris F. Wallace, 2156 Washington avenue; and Raymond Nisepore, 2415 Iowa street.

A report by Dr. J. J. Anthony Rourke, hospital consultant shows that the number of patient visits to the x-ray department of St. Elizabeth Hospital increased 150% from 1958 to 1965.

"The extremely overcrowded conditions in the x-ray department classify it as one of the most important projects in the current St. Elizabeth Hospital expansion and modernization campaign," Lyle F. Guiley and DeLancey J. Davis, co-chairmen of the drive said today. Guiley is executive vice-president of Granite City Steel Co. and Davis is president of the Castings Division of General Steel Industries.

"The expansion and modernization program is to be financed by a campaign for $1,000,000, of which $1,500,000 is now under way," the co-chairmen point out.

"The increased activity in this department in recent years is a perfect example of why this campaign must be successful. The hospital must be expanded in order to continue to provide good service to the increasing number of people who depend on St. Elizabeth in times of emergency and illness."

Last Expansion in '58

"The x-ray facilities were expanded to three rooms in 1958. During that year the department provided service for 11,976 patients. In 1965—seven years later—the department served 30,599 patients. The rise in the level of activity in this department has been so rapid it could not possibly have been anticipated.

Several innovations have recently been installed in the x-ray department in order to more efficiently handle the large volume of patients. The department now has high-speed film processing equipment that develops film in minutes and an automatic type writer to assist in making reports."

"The new x-ray department is a successful fund raising drive will enable the x-ray department to be moved to a new wing and enlarged to seven rooms. The hospital will then be in a position to accommodate the tremendous need for x-ray services."

Dump Control Bill Signed; Open Housing Legislation Approved by Illinois House

A legislative bill designed to curtail the dumping of trash in Madison and St. Clair county landfills by Missouri haulers was signed into law by Gov. Kemner last week. The bill also prohibits and sets up penalties for indiscriminate trash burning.

In other General Assembly action, the Illinois House killed a proposal for a Constitutional Amendment referendum on legalizing bingo games and passed by an unexpected wide margin an open housing law for Illinois.

The dump control bill was introduced by House Speaker Ralph T. Smith and cosponsored by Sen. M. Vadalabene (D) Edwardsville in separate measures, but these later were combined. It is aimed primarily at more adequate control of landfills in the Madison-St. Clair area, but applies statewide.

The measure prohibits dumping of out-of-state wastes at landfills unless the wastes are approved by the state. A penalty of $100 to $500 fine per offense is provided.

The open housing bill sponsored by Rep. Lewis V. Morgan Jr. (R) Wheaton, was passed by a 106 to 44 vote after Morgan caught the bill's opponents by surprise by calling for a vote in a drawn-out session. The bill was supported by about 40% of the Republicans and most Democrats.

The bill prohibits real estate brokers, salesmen and developers, as well as private owners, from discrimination in the selling, leasing or renting of real estate on the basis of color or creed. But it exempts property occupied by the owner and containing four or fewer households.

As a result, single and two family homes or small apartment units in which the owner lives would not be affected by the law. The Illinois Attorney General's office would handle enforcement under the law, investigated all complaints of discrimination. In event discrimination was determined, the attorney general could seek injunction or other civil action to halt discrimination.

Democrats Favor Bill

The bill was approved by 68 Democrats and 49 Republicans, with five Democrats and 39 Republicans voting against it.

MORE ABOUT City Plans

Better Sewers Committee, said the group that had worked for the $8,000,000 bond issue, while the city continues today as the second week begins in the all-out civic improvement drive to "Clean up, Paint up, and Fix up" the four-community area.

Additional effort is being urged this week to enroll each Quad-City family, business firm and organization in some phase of the campaign, Allen L. Jesse, general drive chairman reports.

In observance of the community rejuvenation project, members of Mrs. Rose Wright's fifth grade class at Maryville school, planted a spruce tree on the school grounds Thursday. The youngsters also placed evergreens and geraniums in a brick planter near the main entrance to the school. The entire project was financed with proceeds from the sale of a school newspaper published by class members, Jesse said.

Trees In Quiet Park

Tree plantings in the quiet park area near Kirkpatrick Homes are planned this week by Granite City Rotarians, while members of the Granite City Kiwanis Club this weekend completed their painting and repair projects at the home of a local senior citizen who is unable to perform the task alone.

On Saturday morning, seven Tri-Hi-Y clubs combined forces to clear and sweep streets and alleyways in the vicinity of the YMCA building. Several Boy Scout troops and Cub Packs are continuing to clear debris from vacant lots in their own neighborhoods as part of the general beautification program.

This Wednesday evening, officers of the Kirkpatrick Homes Improvement Association will visit residents of the housing development, seeking assistance in a project-wide, clean-up drive, scheduled to take place next Saturday. Equipment needed for the volunteer effort will be provided by the Granite City Housing Authority, Mrs. Delores Kikonowicz, association president, explained.

Granite City street department employees also continued today a trash pickup service, with junk items not normally handled in the regular garbage pickup being collected on city trucks.

Referring to comments by other aldermen, Moerlen commented, "You're talking about me, but I didn't work against the bond issue. I fact, I even took some people to the polls who said they were voting for it."

He added that the council had gone on record prior to the vote on only the initial phase of the sewer program and that there was no commitment for the grant to be contingent upon a $14,000,000 program. "We were setting up a blank check for this council or future councils."

Blames "3 Things"

Dallas blamed the bond issue defeat "on three things—dissension, confusion and personalities."

Boyd said the polling place at Central school caused problems for elderly people who were unable to climb the stairs to the voting booths, and that the polling place was not unlocked until 7 a.m.—one hour late.

"There were a lot of people out for the parade, but I guess the rain kept them away from the polls. There was a lot of hard work on the program, and it would have been a tremendous help to the people," Boyd said.

Answering a question, Konze, who had visited the office of Housing and Urban Development in Chicago many times in the successful endeavor to get the grant, said it was unlikely it could earmarked only for sanitary sewers, since it was based on the initial $3,400,000 project of the city's overall $14,000,000 program. The initial phase also includes the first step in separation of sanitary and storm water sewage.

Moerlen commented that he believed the initial phase would benefit the entire community. "It will be hard to sell, but it will be long time before Granite City will be able to get another such grant that is three-fourths of the amount allocated for the entire state."

With bond attorney Calvo in the audience, there was talk of having the bond issue ordinance meeting, Calvo conferred with Mayor Partney after the council adjourned, but neither would confirm such action.

Army Depot Employment Policies Outlined to Club

Special employment categories at the Granite City Army Depot were described in detail Tuesday by Alex Duccini, depot civilian employment officer, who spoke to members of the Granite City Optimist Club at their weekly luncheon meeting, in the YMCA.

Duccini, who resides at 2604 East 27th street, was introduced by Lt. Col. David V. Fox, newly-appointed deputy commanding officer at the Army installation.

The local man is a past president of the St. Louis Federal Personnel committee and past commander of Tri-City American Legion Post 113.

Discussing the practice of hiring personnel from special groups, Duccini pointed out the Depot, which has the Granite City Army Depot has twice earned the coveted American Legion Award for its policy of employing the handicapped.

More than 200 physically handicapped persons presently are working in various capacities at the Depot, which has a civilian employee population of approximately 1750, the officer said.

Most of those classified as handicapped are victims of polio, amputees or have other disabilities such as heart ailments, Duccini said.

Some special group employees also have a degree of mental retardation that in no way prohibits their employability, he added.

Duccini stressed that all employees in special workers' groups carry their full share of the work load and receive the same pay as other employees. No special treatment or privileges are sought or offered, he said.

Playing times for park baseball are 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and 1:30 p.m. for Saturday games.

An exception to this schedule is following the parade officially opening the season on Saturday, May 20; teams scheduled to play then will have games beginning at 2:30 p.m.

The times will be effective until playoffs in August.

"A lack of managers is the primary reason we have had to drop from last year's total of 72 teams," Park Supt. Harold Brown said, adding that about 30 player applicants had to be turned down; they will get a chance to enter a park district baseball school which will start June 12.

The baseball school will teach those who have not played much baseball before the fundamentals of the game.

'Acre of Art' Exhibition This Evening at GCHS Gym

A special display of artwork created by art instructors in the Granite City school system, together with thousands of individual exhibits furnished by local students, will highlight the fifth annual "Acre of Art" show to be held from 6 to 9:30 p.m. today at GCHS Memorial Gymnasium.

Between 6000 and 7000 individual art pieces contributed by kindergarten through 12th grade pupils may be viewed free by the public during the exhibition. The event is co-sponsored by the Granite City Area Council of PTAs and art faculty members from various local schools.

Arthur E. Menendez, area council president, reminds those planning to attend tonight's show that donations will be accepted at the door and presented as a scholarship to a deserving art student to further his or her education. Michael Warren was last year's scholarship winner.

The council president pointed out the annual art exhibition provides an opportunity for students in all grade levels to display their art skills. Nearly 1000 persons inspected the exhibits last year.

Coordinating and supervising the show is Eugene Alassi, GCHS art director, who is being assisted by Miss Katharine Kratz, Miss Wanda Wands, Mrs. Gail Shafer, Miss Virginia Bozarth, Miss Katherine Kralley, Miss Tina Loftus, Ronald Ward and Robert Moske.

GC Optimists to Present Award Wednesday

The initial presentation of the Russell D. Johnson Optimist Award to a graduating senior at Granite City high school will take place during a school assembly at 8:15 a.m. Wednesday, it was announced today by Wilbert Triebes, president of the Granite City Optimist Club, sponsors of the award.

Selection of the outstanding boy or girl to receive the award will be made by Lawrence McCauley, high school principal, with the individual chosen having his or her name engraved on the large trophy to be displayed in the local high school building. The winner also will receive a small replica of the award as a memento.

Originally, the trophy was presented to the high school as part of Optimist-sponsored "Youth Appreciation Week," observed in November. Club members recently dedicated the special student's award in memory of Russell D. Johnson, superintendent of Granite City schools, and an Optimist member, who died unexpectedly Nov. 11.

The local graduating senior named to receive the trophy will most typify the "true spirit of Optimism," Triebes explained.

Traffic Plan Devised by Council

To the Editor:

Members of the Citizens' Traffic Committee have been receiving telephone calls from people who are opposed to the new one-way street program. This letter is to advise the community that the plan now being activated was designed and voted in solely by the aldermanic body.

This plan was not engineered by the traffic engineer formerly retained by the city.

ONE-WAY PLAN NEEDED FOR SAFETY, CONVENIENCE

To the Editor:

The objections to the new one-way street seem to be quite selfish in their reasoning. One poor lady is in a block from a supermarket, another is a block away, another cannot point the car in the right direction when parking to pick up her husband after a hard day at the mill.

The solution is easy. Walk. If the driving entails too much ducking into Madison avenue, then a woman should not be driving at all if she can't handle that route.

But I recommend the first recourse, walking; it would keep both wife and husband in better shape. And from the time of day, time hangs heavy on women in this area.

The objects should be grateful for the aldermen of the city council in the improvement of our city traffic problems.

The new one-way is safer, more intelligent and in many different ways will serve to keep some of the sirens silent for a long while. It will also be an auxiliary for the woman driver who may want the whole street to herself.

The objects should remember the many sideways driving through the last few years. I do not understand the urge to squeeze four cars through the width of a street which was formerly planned for just about two, thin old-model crates.

There will also be less racing up and down the street; speeders can be more easily detected, and license numbers jotted down by the patient, there will be less waiting while two chummy drivers stop in the middle of the street to chat.

Objects, remember - these things when you feel like objecting again. These changes were deemed necessary by thinking of the betterment of a growing city. It is not a gambit for re-election or a change for the sake of change.

PROUD TAXPAYER

TAKES EXCEPTION TO FUND DRIVE COMMENTS

To the Editor: Your editorial May 8, "Hospital Gifts a Sound Investment Assuring Up-to-Date Health Facilities," compels me to stick my neck out. You may be an expert on the subject of how to bring up better arguments than that to convince me and many other doubting souls.

How would it sound if your editorial were headed, "Press-Record Gift a Sound Investment Assuring Up-to-Date Printing Facilities"? You are a profit-making private enterprise, so is our St. Elizabeth Hospital in my opinion.

Whether the plan is good, bad or indifferent, the Traffic Committee hereby is making it known that the full credit or responsibility rest squarely on the shoulders of the aldermen.

All comments should be addressed to the aldermen, not to the members of the Citizens' Traffic Committee.

GRANITE CITY CITIZENS TRAFFIC COMMITTEE

opinion. If you don't believe it, read some of the bills patients of all walks of life receive, and I am sure you collected (95% of it).

No private enterprise establishment would dare to ask the general public to donate funds to enlarge and/or modernize its facilities. Soon after the building, one's eyes will see signs, large and small ones, which read, "Donated by..."

I and many others could see the light better if the hospital were a public institution, but I feel it is run by an organization for profit not by the city or the county.

Knowing nothing about high finance, I do understand that the value of the hospital will be enhanced by whatever these donations will bring in cold cash. If these donations are an investment, do they bring in cash?

The Press-Record has the brains to beat the drums for such a money drive, it must have also plenty of money to donate. I and many others haven't. Neither am I and many others in on the influence-lugging griping the country's economy.

I suggest that the Press-Record and all other businesses following this drive have their surplus, called "profits," and many others have none to spare.

I have no ax to grind with the hospital. Last summer my wife and I were there with a heart attack. She was well treated. We have no complaint.

Yes, the bill was high and I believe if Medicare would not have covered the lion's share of it, it would have wiped out our little nest-egg instead of making a deep dent in it.

I know if this should happen again this year and should a hospital confinement, both my wife and I, that nest-egg will be smashed and may take along even part of the roof over our head. But we are not complaining.

I believe the hospital's operation is based on profit, not on charity as the Press-Record seems to imply.

Every industrial or commercial private establishment is putting a certain percentage of its earnings aside for future expansion or modernization; if St. Elizabeth has not been doing this, then they are doing something wrong with management.

JOE KUEHNHOFF

Rural Route No. 1

(Editor's note: St. Elizabeth Hospital is a private, non-profit corporation. It is operated as a public institution, and its statistical financial report is published annually, the latest appearing on Page 17 of the May 8 issue.)

(Hospital capital fund drives are normal. Expansion costs if charged to current patients would necessitate a substantial increase in existing fees. The "dividend" from contributors' investment is improved facilities and equipment to serve the local public.)

Area Mishaps, Injuries, Deaths Below Last Year

Quad-City area traffic accidents, injuries and fatalities during April ran well behind those of the same month a year ago and continued a general downward trend for the first four months of this year.

Statistics on auto mishaps reported to Quad-City area authorities last month showed a total of 181 accidents, with 114 persons injured and one fatality. In April 1966, there were 204 accidents, injuring 142 persons and fatally injuring four persons.

The April mishaps and injuries increased to 971 the total number of accidents so far this year, compared to 788 during the same four-month period in 1966; 350 injury cases compared to 434 at the same time last year, and only six fatalities compared to 12 at the same time a year ago.

The April reduction in the accident and injury rate follows a pattern similar to that of the year. In January there were 170 accidents in the Quad-Cities, resulting in 89 injuries and one fatality. In January 1966, there were 203 mishaps, 114 injuries and two fatalities.

In February this year there were 143 accidents, 57 injuries and two fatalities, compared with February 1966 figures of 187 accidents, 81 injuries and two fatalities.

March police reports showed the area had 177 accidents, 90 injuries and two fatalities, while the same month of the previous year showed 194 accidents, 87 injuries, but four fatalities.

Matheny, 2215 Lincoln avenue, was the only witness to the April crash of an Air Force C-141 four-engine freight service jet fatal to seven men in waters near Vietnam and was instrumental in rescue efforts by his vessel, described as a "swift boat."

"I was on patrol and was on guard in the gun tub," he related in a letter to his parents. "I spotted a plane real close to the water. It crashed and blew up."

"It had 15 tons of high explosive on it. I was the only one to see it, and told my boat officer. We had two survivors on our boat within 14 minutes from the time I saw it crash."

"They say it's a new record for a plane crash in the sea, for any kind of boat or helicopter to rescue two passengers. We're getting a commendation letter on it."

"The only danger was that we had to race through the water and through all that high explosive to get to the injured. They say that the two men owe their lives to us."

A former Granite City high school student, he enlisted in the Navy for three years in July 1965. His address is 997-46-97, Coastal Division 14, FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Union Organizers will Review Hospital Plans

International representatives of the State, County and Municipal Employees Union and the Cooks & Waitresses Union are expected here this week to confer with local union leaders on the organization of employees at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Edwin Reiske, president of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council, said Robert Clingenmuth of the SCME and Carl West of the Cooks & Waitresses, will meet at the Labor Temple with Mrs. Helen Peters of the Cooks & Waitresses Local and Thomas Griffin of the United Steelworkers. The date and time are pending.

Reiske said the unions have been advised by Mother Mary William, president of the hospital's governing board, that the hospital does not plan to enter into any agreement for the employees.

"We received the letter following a meeting with the governing board on April 25, and the business representatives of locals of the trades council met the next day and called upon the governing employees of the hospital to join the unions."

Mental Board Urges Full Budget Approval

Public support of House Bill 2318 budgeting funds for the Illinois Mental Health Program during the next biennium was urged today in a statement by the Board of Mental Health Commissioners pointing out that Illinois is one of the most outstanding mental health programs in the country.

In statements also sent to all legislators of the General Assembly, the board said Illinois already has partially achieved fulfillment of its primary objectives, and by concentrating on treatment rather than custodial handling, the population of state mental hospitals has been reduced, new programs for mental retardation have been initiated and some facilities added.

"To move forward at this time will require the full budget requested," the statement said. "If the budget is substantially cut, what has been accomplished can be destroyed. The high objectives of the Department and the apparent commitment of the state have attracted a group of highly-qualified professionals to the Illinois program. If the program is set back by budget reduction, Illinois stands to lose some of all of this group and will find itself helpless to fill the positions of professionals still remaining to be recruited."

County Report

April Births, Deaths Drop Below Last Year

Births and deaths in Madison county during April dropped below those of the same month a year ago, but the number of marriages increased slightly, according to a vital statistics report issued today by Madison County Clerk Eulalia Hotz.

The report lists the birth of three over April a year ago for 124 boys and 117 girls, with one set of twins, for a total of 241 births. During April last year 147 boys and 143 girls, with two sets of twins, were born.

A total of 164 deaths was reported last month, compared to 172 during the same month in 1966, while the number of marriages last month increased by one to 182.

Storm Disaster Drill In Madison This Week

Five mobile units will be operated by the Tri-City Amateur Radio club to aid in charting the pattern of a simulated storm disaster planned for Saturday in Madison. Civil Defense Director Harry R. Johnson has announced. The units will be located in Roxana, Troy, Edwardsville, Collinsville and East St. Louis.

"Tornado casualties" will be aided by first-aid teams, with Mrs. Clifford Dunham, first-aid instructor, taking motion pictures to show to future classes.

The Civil Air Patrol will work with the Madison Auxiliary Police in directing traffic. James J. Loy, Madison high school science teacher in charge of Madison area radioactivity monitoring, will direct three monitor teams in a one-hour training period, submitting reports to the CD base station in the basement of the Madison recreation center, Seventh street and Lee avenue.

Exact time of Saturday's drill will not be announced in advance as a further test of the defense staff's ability to mobilize in the event of a natural disaster, Johnson said.

Bathtub Shock Shows Need to Ground Motor

"Make sure your electric sump pump is grounded," the family of Phyllis Hartman, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hartman, 1729 Bremen avenue, cautioned Quad-Cityans today. Rendered unconscious by an electrical shock while bathing last Wednesday night, she was released from St. Elizabeth Hospital Thursday evening and is recuperating at her home.

The girl was saved by artificial respiration applied by her father, and was given oxygen while being rushed by ambulance to the hospital.

Investigation by an electrician and the city inspector showed a short-circuit in a sump pump motor had sent an electrical shock along water pipes to the bathtub.

Woman Shot Accidentally

Alice Miller, 34, St. Louis, suffered an accidental gunshot wound in the right thigh about 1:50 p.m. Saturday. Madison police said Mrs. Miller was wounded while visiting friends in Madison. The woman told them, police reported, that she was removing a package of cigarettes from her purse when the gun she carried fell from the purse to the floor and discharged. She was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Police Training Board May Use Funds As Needed

The Illinois Local Government Law Enforcement Officers Training Board may spend what it deems necessary from its $800,000 appropriation to employ a company to make a survey of the needs for training law enforcement officials in Illinois, according to an opinion handed down by Illinois Attorney William G. Clark at the request of Board Chairman Silver Suarez at Springfield.

The opinion was one of a series released by the attorney general's office last week to decide pending legal points in cases pending throughout the state. One of the opinions, delivered to State's Attorney L. E. Ellison of Whiteside county, holds that a person riding in or attempting to steer an inoperable motor vehicle being towed by another vehicle is not a driver of the vehicle unless he is in actual physical control.

Another opinion given State's Attorney Omar T. Shawler of Clark county maintains that a public water district does not have an "exclusive" right to sell and distribute water within its district. According to still another opinion, a minor is not entitled to a jury in a hearing under the Juvenile Court Act, and in another ruling that a hearing is not necessary upon a petition for a referendum to establish civil service in a city.

Can Try Vote Machines

The attorney general also ruled for State's Attorney Richard R. Cross of McHenry county that voting machines may be used experimentally in one or more precincts of a municipality or county prior to holding a referendum to adopt their use.

He also held in another opinion that a sheriff of an Illinois county is entitled to a fee of 30 cents per mile for going, only, for conveying prisoners from county to county. Such fees, Clark advised State's Attorney Frank H. Walker of Jefferson county are to be paid into the fund of the sheriff.

The attorney general's office also filed injunction suit in St. Clair county circuit court to halt operation by Bud Brown of four refuse dumps in St. Clair county. Clark brought the proceedings in behalf of the State Department of Public Health which has been seeking to force Brown to discontinue open burning on the landfill sites.

Alert Siren 'Growl' Test At 7:30 P.M. Tomorrow

A brief "growl" test of Granite City's recently installed network of seven warning sirens will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, Victor H. Koenig, city defense director, announced over the weekend.

The test, Koenig explained, is to permit CD officials and fire-fighting technicians to ascertain that the units are operational and can be activated simultaneously. Residents may not hear the low growl, unless they live in the immediate vicinity of a siren. Tomorrow's test is planned only as a brief switch-on of feeder lines. Auxiliary police officers will be stationed near each siren to note whether the equipment is functioning.

"We want to make sure everything is operational prior to the first official test of the new siren network at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, June 6," Koenig said.

Illinois Hardwood Valuable Asset Mayor Partney Presents Awards at Hospital

The value of prime, Illinois hardwoods was well illustrated by two timber sales completed recently.

In Gallatin county, along the Wabash River, 911 pecan trees, 430,000 bd. ft., were sold for $76,000. In Northern Illinois, 2196 trees, 367,000 bd. ft., were sold for $115,765.

"The average timber owner is not aware of wood needs that change from day to day," William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, said. "The pecan is a member of the hickory family, a tree that was considered too hard for commercial use. But methods of producing veneer from pecan have been found."

The northern Illinois woods sold were walnut, ash, basswood, hackberry, Kentucky coffee tree, hard maple, cottonwood and several varieties of oak.

Sixty-seven employees of St. Elizabeth Hospital were presented with service awards in the hospital cafeteria Friday afternoon as a phase of the annual observance of Hospital Week. The presentations were made by Mayor Partney.

Hospital employees and their families were guests Saturday at an all-day picnic at the Granite City Army Depot, at which Col. Charles Hoskin III and his staff were hosts.

Approximately 80 physicians and members of the Lay Advisory Board were guests at a dinner held Thursday night in the Sisters dining room at the hospital as another event on the observance program.

Top honors among the awards made in Friday afternoon program went to Perry Fichte, an administration employee with 30 years service at the hospital. Certificates for 20 years service went to Clarence Armour, an engineer in the boiler room, and Ethel McMillan, a cook in the dietary department. Other awards included presentation of certificates to eight employees for ten-year service, clergy, a tea for the hospital and 35 employees for five years auxiliary, refreshments for police and ambulance drivers, a service. Other events last week included nurses' tea and career day for high school students.

St. Louis Man Missing Since Leaving Party Here

Granite City police were notified yesterday that a 37-year-old St. Louisan, William L. Zander, has been missing since about 10 p.m. May 3 when he left a social function at the Army Depot's officers club.

Zander, a government worker in St. Louis, was driving a blue and white auto with Missouri license SGO-872. He was described as being five feet, eight inches tall, weighing 150 pounds and having black hair. The report to police was made by his father.

Only one slight hitch developed in the award program Friday afternoon when the service pins failed to arrive in time for the ceremonies. The award certificates were awarded and the pins will be distributed as soon as they are received.

Sister Mary Thomas, Sister Mary Paul and Sister Mary Francis, and Mrs. Partney served refreshments following presentation of the awards.

EXTRA CARE is being used by Michelle Dovin (left) and Carolyn Randolph in holding "Valerie," the Black Widow Spider from the Granite City Army Depot. The insect is part of an Armed Forces Week exhibit in the lobby of the First Granite City National Bank where the girls are employed. The web of the spider is used as crosshairs in surveying instruments. The exhibit ends Friday.

James Bucatch Sr., 58, Dies of Heart Attack
James Bucatch sr., 58, of 2676 Madison avenue, suffered an apparent heart attack about 8:30 p.m. yesterday shortly after he had alighted from his automobile following a trip to East St. Louis to visit a sister-in-law. He collapsed beside his car, which was parked in front of the Bucatch home.

Efforts by the fire department's inhalator squad members failed to revive him, and he was pronounced dead upon arrival at 8:35 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mr. Bucatch previously had suffered a heart ailment. However, his health had been fairly good for the past year and he was not under a physician's care. An inquiry is pending.

A native Granite Cityan, Mr. Bucatch lived here his entire life. Until retirement in 1965 for health reasons, he owned and operated Bucatch's garage at 20th street and Park avenue for more than 40 years. Since that time, he had been employed part-time at the Molo Service Station on Nameoki road.

Mr. Bucatch was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Local 971, and the Greater Beneficial Union, District 491.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ann Bucatch; a daughter, Miss Betty Jean Bucatch, and one son, James Bucatch jr., both at home.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Miss Rydgid Spends Four Years in 12th Century Atmosphere -- Now Plans Tour of Duty in Turkey

that she quickly discovered "no truer word was ever spoken."

Bounded on the west by the eastern shoreline of the Red Sea, with Saudi Arabia on the north and the British Protectorate of Aden on the east, Miss Rydgid said that Yemen is mountainous terrain with high plateaus rising from 800 to 10,000 feet above sea level. A series of barren terraces slopes up from the Red Sea coastline to the mountains.

Yemen's territory, once part of the ancient kingdom of Sheba, or Bab, served as a prosperous link in trade between Africa and India. A Biblical reference speaks of its gold, spices and precious stones as gifts borne by the Queen of Sheba to King Solomon.

Since the early 1800's, cultivation and export of the world-famous Mocha coffee has been Yemen's most important occupation, Miss Rydgid said. Many of the country's five million population are nomads, wandering the countryside with herds of cattle. In more recent years, several oil deposits have been discovered with some concessions granted to American oil interests.

Since the U.S.-Yemen AID agreement signed in 1959, one of the largest projects undertaken by AID mission technicians involved construction and development of fresh water resources.

No Fresh Water

"It's almost impossible to comprehend," Miss Rydgid noted, "before the American well-drilling and piping project was started, Yemen had no fresh water supply."

"The people utilized what water they could find in 'waddis,' dry riverbeds, some natural springs or from mountain streams. The quantity of water available for any purpose strictly was governed by the amount of rainfall."

Use of stagnant water permits age-old diseases such as leprosy, cholera, malaria and elephantitis to flourish in Yemen, Miss Rydgid explained. She added, "Considering the lack of fresh water, however, the Yemeni people are remarkably clean."

One aspect of modern-day life in Yemen may be cause for increasing concern, the foreign service worker said. Prevalent among Yemeni adults is a habit among Yemeni adults is a habit of chewing a narcotic leaf, called "qat."

BIBLICAL SCENE, unchanged more than 2000 years later, shows a nomadic herdsman and his goats crossing Yemen's mountainous and barren terrain. World-famous Mocha coffee is grown on similar terraced slopes leading down to the Red Sea.

Effects of the leaf include hallucinations, with passive and apathetic attitudes, Miss Rydgid said, a feeling that the chewer, if used in that manner, can accomplish great deeds, without ever achieving them.

When asked if the effects were similar to those attributed to LSD, Miss Rydgid said she was unfamiliar with the term, LSD. Word of the drug which made headlines in U.S. newspapers, had not been reported in the mission paper in Yemen, she explained.

Long-term usage of "qat" apparently creates severe stomach ailments, a fact which does not disturb those addicted to it, she said. She noted that in several areas where the famous Mocha coffee trees are dying, the Yemenis now are planting "qat" bushes to replace them.

Bright Clothing

While fierce and warlike in their appearance, the slightly-built Yemeni males also are addicted to bright, colorful costumes and skillfully wrapped turbans around their heads. They always wear the traditional "jambya," a curved dagger in a sheath attached at the waistband.

Nearly all are expert marksmen with a rifle and most are equally proficient at conducting tribal or guerrilla-style warfare. The Yemeni women are very attractive with graceful posture, attributed to the large loads which they carry skillfully on their heads. They also dress in gay, colorful attire, wearing large amounts of jewelry and heavy eye make-up. In the cities, many of the women wear beautiful rich brocades and silks, but even the nomadic females are usually garbed in bright cottons, Miss Rydgid noted. She added that the southern part of Yemen the people appear more genteel and refined, while the northern Yemenis are fierce and more primitive.

FIERCE-LOOKING TRIBESMEN from Northern Yemen, their colorful dress criss-crossed with silver trappings, stop by the roadside to pose for Miss Rydgid. Expert marksmen, seldom are they seen without their rifle, or a jambya, the curved, sheathed dagger at the waist.

Until recently, she explained, criminals or political prisoners were beheaded with great ceremony. U. S. influence halted the practice temporarily, she said, but she thought the Yemeni authorities probably had reverted to this method of punishment once again.

Lack of education and the facilities to promote education prohibits the country from attaining economic stability without help, Miss Rydgid said. She pointed out that Yemen's proximity to the Red Sea could allow it to build a prosperous fishing economy, but nothing has been done in this direction.

Biblical Scenes

Based at the AID mission compound in Tiaz, an ancient city filled with Moslem mosques and minarets, the Madison woman said at first glance the city presents a picturesque Biblical scene with whitewash outlining the windows and doors of buildings. On closer inspection, she commented, you find the rock buildings are crumbling into decay.

Up to the past two or three years, all houses and other structures in Yemen were constructed of native rock, with the large stones bonded together with a crushed rock, rather than mortar. "It is amazing how these structures have withstood the test of time as well as they have," she said.

Another point unbelievable to westerners is the complete absence of sanitary facilities. "Everything is accomplished in the open," she commented.

At Tiaz, Miss Rydgid was in charge of training and supervising young Arabs to perform simple tasks at an acceptable level. She served as administrative assistant to the chief of the Supply and Logistics Division, responsible for such duties as supply, procurement, personnel problems and warehousing.

Personnel at the U. S. AID Missions also include employees from a third country, she explained. This is common practice in foreign service missions.

Joined Agency in 1963

An attractive brunette, with flashing dark eyes and a vivacious smile, Miss Rydgid joined the U. S. Agency for International Development in 1963. Almost two years earlier, she had answered a newspaper advertisement which sought qualified applicants interested in future foreign service careers.

At the time she applied, Miss Rydgid was employed as a secretary in St. Louis. Not hearing that an immediate appointment had been granted her, she then began an intensive educational program.

She enrolled for a crash course in stenotype study at the Wyoming Valley Valley Ranch and Camp, near Campment, Wyo. The privately-financed institution specializes in a concentrated curriculum, which combines training the intellect and physical in harmony to achieve maximum efficiency.

After several months in Wyoming, Miss Rydgid continued her education at the Bryan Steno School in Los Angeles, Calif., at which point she was notified that her request for foreign service had been approved.

Born and reared in Madison, Miss Rydgid attended local schools and was graduated from Madison high school. She also attended St. Louis University and Washington University.

Answers Ad An unwavering desire to travel, especially in the area of the Holy Land, directed her toward her present employment, she notes. "As with most people," she commented, "I found my life was more and more channelled with responsibilities, close family ties and the everyday routine of the American working girl. Finally, I decided to take the plunge by answering the newspaper ad."

One of the saddest moments during her four years overseas occurred nearly two years ago when her mother, Mrs. Mary Rydgid, died while Miss Rydgid was serving her second tour of duty in Yemen. Arranging transportation at short notice from that area of the world is virtually impossible, so she was unable to return home in time. She had been here on leave for nearly a month earlier, following her initial two-year assignment.

men has no beauty salons, not even a dress shop or shoe store where one can go and browse if you are feeling depressed or out-of-sorts, Miss Rydgid said.

Mission women must learn to cut and style each other's hair, she pointed out. Everything you need must be anticipated ahead of time and stockpiled, which isn't too easy for a woman to do.

She noted that children of American Mission personnel attend a U. S. AID-sponsored school until the eighth grade level, after which they are required to transfer for their high school education to American mission schools somewhere else in the Middle East. An eighth-grade age youngster is rather young to be starting out on his own to another country for school, she commented. The children usually are enrolled in schools at Beirut, Lebanon, in Ethiopia, or in Switzerland, Miss Rydgid said.

On leaving Yemen in early April, Miss Rydgid fulfilled her ambition to visit the Holy Land. Before returning home, she toured Jerusalem in Jordan, Jerusalem and Tel Aviv, Israel, Ethiopia, Lebanon and other middle-eastern countries, also visiting London and Washington en route.

Dressed in the latest styled two-piece sportswear when interviewed, Miss Rydgid is enjoying her leave at the family home, 715 Washington avenue, Madison. She is catching up with the new look in women clothing fashions and spending a great deal of time visiting with the families of her brothers and sisters.

She is a sister of Paul Rydgid of Madison, Mrs. Frank E. Blad, Andrew Rydgid and Mrs. Dee Greene, all of Granite City, and Mrs. Pat Urban of Highland, formerly of Madison.

From her comments, however, she appeared anxious to see what new adventures her tour with CENTRO in Ankara, Turkey, holds for her within the next two years.

Day Program for Alcoholics Successful at Alton State

Bernice Ruedin, RN and coordinator of the Alcoholic Day Program at Alton State Hospital said, "The program is designed to offer help to individuals who are experiencing some type of difficulty due to excessive drinking. Our goal is to provide a treatment program which aims at physical, psychological and social rehabilitation to the extent that the individual can live acceptably in his own eyes and in the eyes of the community without alcohol."

Continuing, she said, "The major function of the program is to provide a basic program for all alcoholics yet flexible enough to meet the needs of both the less verbally expressive and the more talk and feeling orientated individuals." Stress is placed on educating the alcoholic about the effects of alcohol. Hopefully what they learn in the educational process they will utilize in the therapy group.

Stress has been placed on the group process as the alcoholic is generally characterized as a "loner," yet he can still retain this therapy group fellowship while living in the unit setting with members from his own geographical area. The group affords the patient with a means for identification, a feeling of security and a means for forming emotionally significant personal relationship.

The patients will have Industrial Assignments in various work areas giving them a variety of work experiences and offers a mixture of persons with whom they have to relate.

Psychotherapy Sessions
Unit coordinators hold a psychotherapy sessions twice weekly. Didactic lectures for all members in the Day Program, recreation, films, discussion groups of varying kinds will also be offered.

A.A. attendance twice weekly is compulsory for the first four weeks and after this period the patient may choose to attend or study groups will be offered during the day schedule.

It is important to remember that institutionalization may become necessary for the patient, but it can never be more than a first and incomplete step in therapy. Therefore use of A.A., family service agencies, mental health clinics, clergy, private physicians, law enforcement agencies and any other existing facilities will be utilized.

The Alcoholic Day Program team sees the referring source of a patient to the hospital as having an obligation for after care.

In conclusion Mrs. Ruedin said, "Much work needs to be done in the community regarding alcoholism. Resources have been tapped and understanding of the alcoholic is still at a minimum level. The units of Alton State hope to develop and utilize community resources and demonstrate that alcoholism is not only an individual problem but a community problem as well."
